Brutes
DIZZ TATE

In Falls Landing, Florida – a place of theme parks, swampy lakes and scorched bougainvillea – something is wrong. Sammy, the local preacher’s daughter, is missing. Nobody knows where she is. But somebody – a gang of girls – has been watching from a distance. From their balconies and behind the wall, and in the heat that’s so hot the world starts to blur. They know something, and they are about to discover more: a dark secret about their fame-hungry town and the cruel cost of a ticket out. What they uncover will continue to haunt them for the rest of their lives . . .

Shy
MAX PORTER

From the bestselling author of Grief is the Thing with Feathers and Lanny – a novel about guilt, rage, imagination and boyhood.

This the story of a few strange hours in the life of a troubled teenage boy. He is escaping Last Chance, a home for ‘very disturbed young men’, and walking into the haunted space between his night terrors, his past and the heavy question of his future. Shy is a novel about being lost in the dark, and realising you are not alone.

I Am Homeless If This Is Not My Home
LORRIE MOORE

Finn is in the grip of middle-age and an enforced holiday from work: it might be that he’s ‘too emotional’ to teach history now. High up in a Manhattan hospice, his beloved brother is slipping from this world to the next. Back in Illinois, his troubled old flame Lily, the great love of his life, is somewhere in between. Soon she’ll call him back to her, and open a trapdoor in reality: they will take a road trip from the land of the living to the land of the dead.

Old God’s Time
SEBASTIAN BARRY

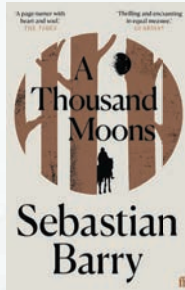

Retired policeman Tom Kettle is enjoying the quiet of his new home, a lean-to annexed to a white Victorian Castle in Dalkey overlooking the sea. For months he has barely seen a soul, but his peace is interrupted when two former colleagues turn up at his door to ask questions about a decades-old case. A traumatic case which Tom never quite came to terms with.

A beautiful, haunting novel, in which nothing is not quite what it seems, Old God’s Time is about what we live through, what we live with, and what will survive of us.

Big Swiss
JEN BEAGIN

Greta spends her days transcribing therapy sessions for Om, a sex therapist with a unique style. As the local town’s secrets pour directly into her headphones, soon Greta knows the residents of her local community intimately. One particular client fascinates her. She is twenty-eight, Swiss, a gynaecologist, married but has never had an orgasm. Greta gives her the name ‘Big Swiss’.

So when Greta realises the elegant, slender ‘white asparagus’ lady she is talking with in the dog park is in fact Big Swiss herself, an unlikely – and not entirely honest – relationship is born. One which transforms both of their lives.

Elsewhere
YAN GE

Both modern and historical, the stories in Elsewhere range from Dublin to London and Stockholm to China. Contemporary stories of isolation, the diasporic experience, homecoming, the internet and obsession are interlaced with those inspired by ancient texts and philosophy.

We meet a group of writers lounging on the edge of an earthquake disaster zone; a Mandarin ostracised from his old court; a woman who inexplicably loses her voice and the poet who steals her words; a couple who meet all too fleetingly at a cinema in Dublin. The collection crescendos towards its longest and final story, one of verve and power and dark humour, which follows the fortunes of one of Confucius’s disciples.

Cousins
AURORA VENTURINI

A novel of 'depraved genius' (Enrique Vila-Matas) that 'makes you laugh out loud' (Mariana Enríquez), Cousins is the story of women of an impoverished family, forced to suffer a series of ordeals including disfigurement, illegal abortions and murder. Narrated by Yuna, who stares wildly at the world she is compelled to live in – and whose success as a painter offers her a way out. This literary masterpiece is a major discovery in international literature: brutal, candid and mischievous, stylish and mysterious and completely original.

Rising to the Surface
LENNY HENRY

Tracing Lenny Henry’s career through the 80s and 90s through a period of great creativity – prize-winning tv programmes, the starring role in a Hollywood film, and stand-up gigs in New York. But with each rise there is a fall, the most traumatic being the death of his mother. But by the end of the book he has been able to rise through a sea of troubles and breaks out to the surface to accept the Golden Rose of Montreaux for his work in television.

The Last Emperor of Mexico
EDWARD SHAWCROSS

In 1864, a gullible, idealistic Austrian archduke crossed the Atlantic to assume a faraway throne, lured by a duplicitous Napoleon III. This riveting, wildly acclaimed debut tells the vivid history of a barely known, barely believable episode – a tragedy of operatic proportions, the effects of which would be felt into the twentieth century and beyond.
